SUMMARY

---

I am a behavioral economist interested in interdisciplinary research on group and individual decision making. In particular, I explore topics such as collective intelligence, forecasting and individual preferences through economic experiments and empirical analysis.

CURRENT POSITIONS

Visiting Graduate Student September 2022 - Present
University of California, San Diego - Rady School of Management, USA

PhD Candidate in Human Decisions and Policy Design September 2019 - Present
Maastricht University, The Netherlands

- Pursue experimental research on collective intelligence, forecasting and individual preferences.
- Equip future problem solvers with an economic toolbox by teaching various PBL-based courses.

Co-Founder September 2019 - Present
Bat & Ball, Henstedt-Ulzburg, Germany

- Build a consulting firm dedicated to transform scientific insights into real-world solutions.

RESEARCH PAPER

Debt Aversion: Theory and Measurement (with Thomas Meissner) - link to paper

- We propose a formal model incorporating debt aversion as standalone domain of preferences, and use a novel experiment to jointly estimate debt aversion with preferences over time, risk and losses.

The Debt Aversion Survey Module (with Thomas Meissner) - link to paper

- We develop an experimentally validated, short and easy-to-use survey module for measuring individual preferences towards saving and borrowing, as if elicited through an incentivized experiment.

ONGOING RESEARCH

Hidden Agendas in Small Group Judgment Aggregation - link to preregistration

- I analyse how the format of interaction and threats of manipulation influence accuracy and trustworthiness of judgments derived in small groups such as expert committees or project teams.

Debt aversion among German households - Evidence from the SOEP
(with Thomas Meissner and Ciril Bosch-Rosa)

- We investigate the relation of individual debt attitudes to other socio-economic characteristics and its predictive power for real-world behavior based on a German representative sample.

EDUCATION

M.Sc. in Economics and Management Science (MEMS) 2017
Humboldt University, Berlin, Germany

- Thesis on Probability Perception in Decision Making under Risk

B.A. in Economics and Sociology 2014
Georg August University, Göttingen, Germany
